

“I love learning about how life is for others, who have different religions, it’s good to experience life from another person’s point of view.” Sean, Year 6 Pupil

“Wormholt Park Primary School is a very multi-cultural school, we speak about, and respect, all religions and learn about them so we can understand them.” Ricco, Year 6 Pupil

At Wormholt Park Primary School, we teach children to be tolerant and respectful of themselves and others.

We are a Unicef 'Rights Respecting' school and we are dedicated to ensuring children learn that they have responsibilities as well as rights - responsibilities to themselves, to others and to the environment. We are very proud to hold our Gold UNICEF Rights Respecting Schools Award. At our school, children are respected, their talents are nurtured and they are able to thrive. Our Rights Respecting Schools Award embeds these values in daily school life and gives children the best chance to lead happy, healthy lives and to be responsible, active citizens.

Our vision, when teaching Religious Education, is to develop children’s skills of enquiry, reasoned argument and reflections. Educating children about religion, offers a place of integrity and security, within which difficult questions can be tackled in a safe but challenging context. In Religious Education teaching, pupils discover, explore and consider different answers to these questions, in local, national and global contexts, through learning about and from religions and other world views. This helps children to understand the world around them. Children are encouraged to ask questions about their surroundings and the world and to reflect on their own beliefs, values and experiences.

At Wormholt Park Primary School, we use the London Borough of Hammersmith and Fulham’s Religious Education Agreed Syllabus, which has been modified and adapted for use in H&F schools. Hammersmith and Fulham is an increasingly diverse Borough. The Agreed Syllabus was written by experts who brought together representatives of the major world faiths and humanism to adopt a syllabus to be used as a basis for teaching children and young people of all ages and abilities.
